Rocket to it!

Take the Active Approach!

The Four Ways of Getting Interviews

- Job Postings (passive)
- Search Firms (passive) } ≈20%
- Cold Contact (active)
- Networking (active) } ≈80%

Challenges with Ads and Search Firms

- Postings receive hundreds or thousands of responses
- Your background has to look almost identical to the requirements
- Passive method for searching
- The hiring manager is NOT doing the initial screening (it's often a computer!)
- Salary requirements used for upfront screening

Improving Your Job Posting Response Rate

➤ Take a two step approach:

1. Apply to the job posting, then try and...
2. Find the hiring manager and contact them directly (examples to follow– next section).

Ad Cover Letters

Always write a cover letter.

- Highly effective if you're a close match: Use the “Your Requirements vs. My Qualifications” format (see next slide).
- Don't use this format if your background is not a close match.

Ad Response Example

My client received an interview from this ad response. Other clients get interviews using this format all the time.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I'm delighted to present my candidacy for Senior Program Director, an opportunity ideally suited to my background, experience and passion for enhancing opportunities for youth. Throughout my career, I have thrived in youth advocacy and the development of outcome-based, innovative programs on a national scale.

As highlighted in my resume, I have developed and implemented winning strategies for successful community-focused programs, including process improvements. Below, I have excerpted your key requirements for the ideal candidate, followed by my related qualifications. I look forward to speaking with you about this exciting opportunity.

Sincerely,
Susan L. Smith

Your Requirements Followed By My Qualifications

Bachelors degree absolutely required. Master's degree preferred.

A Master's in Public Health, including a specialty in community health, program evaluations, and statistical analysis, serves as the foundation of my successful non-profit career in program development, community relationship development, and strategic planning.

Five years of supervisory and or program development experience.

My 13-year non-profit career consists largely of developing and managing multiple after-school youth programs, many of them award-winning, affecting more than 2.5 million youth nationwide. My success at developing and administering community programs on a national level has been predicated on my ability to communicate effectively and engender trust. Highlights include:

- Developing a strong relationship-based network with more than 188 Girls Club affiliates and 20 key partners such as ONDCP, Unilever, American Girl, PepsiCo, and Paramount Pictures, resulting in $5.7 million in direct and indirect funding.
- Developing a program and curriculum that allowed more than 300 at-risk youth on the Lower East Side of Manhattan to receive educational and work-based skills training.

Knowledge of youth development programming a plus.

My program development work with Girls Club of the USA, which has a $65 million operating budget, has involved managing the efforts of more than 900,000 volunteers and 2.5 million members nationwide. My success and experience have encompassed all aspects of budget development, grant acquisition, affiliate consultation, event planning, and project management. I have skillfully managed collaborations leading to increased resources, innovative programs, and enhanced brand awareness. Some of my most notable accomplishments include:

- Successfully procuring a $2.65 million grant from the Unilever Foundation to fund a self-esteem program for girls 8-17.
- Developing and supervising leadership institutes, health summits, job development trainings, and other programs that reached more than 1,400 volunteers and youth world-wide.
- Serving as content manager for teen website www.studiob.or , earning the “Parents’ Choice Silver” Award for the small screen.

Ability to work with a diverse staff.

I possess a stellar track record (over 14 years in the making) in developing, implementing and leading programs that support your target population. Two of many examples include:

- Created a comprehensive program that enabled diverse youth population to apply for and receive over $150,000 in scholarship/award opportunities.
- Developed a program and curriculum that enabled over 300 at risk youth on the Lower East Side to receive work based skill training, coaching and mentoring support. Served as Dean of this highly regarded program for over six years.

Knowledge of budgets, program reporting and government funding a plus

- Successfully managed and evaluated a $300,000 partnership with Southern Bell Corp, promoting English-Spanish family literacy through 41 Girls Club affiliates nationwide.
- Secured $1 million in funding from the PepsiCo Foundation and $1.8 million of additional in-kind donations from organizations such as Paramount, DreamWorks, Lionsgate, Scholastic Inc., the White House Office of Nat’l Drug Control Policy, the U.S. Dept of Health and Human Services, and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

“Before” Email (job search “cold contact when saw posting”)

Subject: Hello!

From: doggie23@hotmail.com

Dear Susan,

I am writing to see if you could use a Senior Business and Economics analyst at YourFirm. I have spent eight years providing macroeconomic research on emerging markets, with a focus on quantitative analysis, for global investors. I also have rich experience in conducting strategic communications with investors, media and government.

I worked as an Economic Analyst at XXX, a consulting firm in New York. We provided US investors and government agencies with in-depth analysis of Chinese growth drivers and forecast of China’s growth potential in the medium and long term. I worked directly with David Davidson, a China Economist, to write research notes and prepare client presentation on various macroeconomic topics and political issues.

My main responsibility at XXX was quantitative analysis. I used econometric models to dissect China’s economic structure in comparison with the fundamentals of other emerging markets such as India and Brazil. I collected and built cross-country databases for important sectors—real estate, energy, auto, steel and services sectors etc. We used STATA and R to analyze drivers/issues and forecast growth trends. I also analyzed international trade and cross border investment flows between China and OECD countries by comparing data points from Balance of Payment, Investment Position and Flow of Funds. In Rhodium’s two recent books on China’s outbound direct investment into the United States and Europe, I was responsible for data mining and analysis.

Following years of experience in data analysis and economic research, I am looking to take greater responsibilities and to apply my skillsets for more practical business decisions. The Sr. Business Analyst- Economics position at your firm fits my career pursuit perfectly. I am excited that the position would provide me with the opportunity to work with a bigger team of talents and to better utilize my quantitative and analytical skills.

My contribution includes strong postgraduate education, including a masters in international economics. I’m also a CFA. I bring superior analytical and quantitative skills, as I’m well versed in using econometric tools (such as STATA, R etc) to conduct market research and build business models; I’m capable of designing research projects on important industries such as real estate, energy, banking and pharmaceutical etc. I possess a solid knowledge of emerging market fundamentals, including the national courts, monetary and fiscal policies, cross-border investment, exchange rate commodities, labor market, etc. And finally, I’m fluent in both English and Chinese, and communicate clearly and effectively in both languages when addressing different audiences.

I am looking forward to an interview opportunity for this position so that we can discuss your specific requirements and how I could contribute to your business. I look forward to talking to you soon.

Subject: Discuss emerging markets at YourFirm?

From: armandojones@gmail.com

Dear Susan,

Upon seeing our three mutual connections on LinkedIn and shared group (CFA Society), I thought I would reach out; perhaps you can use a Business Analyst with expertise in quantitative analysis, emerging markets, and investor relations.

For eight years, I have guided global investment decisions using research and quantitative analysis (including STATA and R) at organizations including WellKnownCo1 & WellKnownCo2. My particular focus has been China and Brazil, where I understand you are seeking to grow your presence.

I also bring experience in communicating with investors, media and government. Highlights include:

- Conducted all data mining and analysis for WellKnownCo1’s two recent books on direct investment in China.
- Covered emerging economies in all the BRIC and MINT countries for the firm and investors.
- Developed reports and investor presentations that led to deals worth $10s of millions.
- “Go-to” expert for Brazilian economy including real estate, energy, auto, steel and service sectors.
- Bi-lingual: English and Chinese
- Masters in International Economics, and CFA (2013)

My career successes to date have been driven by a desire to add value for the client and help them make the “right” decisions; I understand that your company culture reflects these same values. For your additional information, I’ve attached my resume, and my LinkedIn profile is www.linkedin.com/in/x .

I am excited at the prospect of contributing to your highly regarded team and believe I could add substantial value. Would you have 20 minutes available to speak, perhaps sometime next week?

Do's & Don'ts for Business Writing

DO: Make the format easily scannable, a quick read

- ✓ Short paragraphs (no more than seven lines in, e.g., an 8.5x11 doc using Arial 11).
- ✓ 1st sentences of each paragraph should flow when read together
- ✓ Consider using bullets, underlining, bold, headings

DO: Strive to include content that:

- ✓ Shows appreciation when appropriate – strike the right tone (e.g. assertive, deferential, etc.)
- ✓ Is relevant & useful to them if possible (including in the subject line)
- ✓ Is tailored to the individual; include verbiage about them or their organization.
- ✓ Clearly says what action you want
- ✓ Incorporates your “pitch” when introducing or re-introducing yourself

DO: Default to Email over Postal Mail (with a few exceptions)

DON'T:

- ✗ Use big dense paragraphs
- ✗ Be repetitive
- ✗ Come across as insincere
- ✗ Use clichéd language, boilerplate, obvious, e.g. “problem solver...multitasker...”
- ✗ Make spelling/grammar errors

Subject: Discuss UT Global Tax Issues?

Dear Julietta,

Could United Technologies benefit from a hands-on tax director and counsel with international expertise and the ability to drive strategic initiatives?

I have designed and implemented tax strategies for businesses in the U.S. and more than 14 countries, which could be helpful given your well publicized expansion into Europe and Asia.

I know how to work with operations, finance and legal people to deliver tailored solutions that get results. I have managed cross-functional teams in North America, Europe, Latin America and Asia-Pacific in complex projects, including

- Executing a $4 billion U.S. recapitalization.
- Refinancing global operations to extract cash from overseas without crippling operations or paying significant taxes.
- Implementing a global trading company to streamline production, increase sales and reduce the global effective tax rate by 50%.
- Reconfiguring a global sales organization to isolate and manage an estimated $100 million foreign tax exposure.

My resume is attached for your additional information, and my LinkedIn profile is X.

I am very interested in meeting with you. I believe you will find even a brief meeting beneficial. I will call your office in the next few days to see when I can get on your calendar.

Subject: Your CFA talk last September...

Dear Eleanor,

Your talk at the CFA Society in September resonated strongly; I appreciated your take on the current opportunity in Latin America, as I adopted this same strategy in managing a portfolio for InvestCo5. On another note, I notice that we share two connections and three groups on LinkedIn.

As a portfolio manager and CFA, I'm beginning to look for other opportunities. Given your reputation in the industry, I would very much appreciate 15-20 minutes of your time to gain your insight on how I might be of help to InvestCo1 down the road. I will not be expecting any openings at InvestCo1; this request is purely informational.

Our conversation could be mutually beneficial. My success with the strategy you outlined might be of interest to you. As well, I have a broad and deep network on LinkedIn (I know all of my roughly 800 contacts) and would be happy to make introductions.

Some background: I have over 15 years of experience achieving returns that have consistently outperformed the benchmark, as a Portfolio Manager (InvestCo5, InvestCo6). My expertise includes fixed income, equities, options, convertible arbitrage, and cross-asset class trading. Highlights:

- Managed portfolios of over $1 billion, achieving returns that were twice the peer average through 2008-2010.
- Took underperforming portfolios at FinCo1 and FinCo2 and turned them into successful profit generators.
- Took positions that netted returns of over 140% in six months, through research on distressed investments.
- Created four asset allocation products including a $640 million target date fund series and a $1.6 billion risk-based series.
- Considered a subject-matter expert; presented at last year's X conference; regularly asked to present to prospects, clients, boards, and investment committees.

My LinkedIn Profile is www.linkedin.com/in/x if you would like to find out more about me.

I would value and appreciate your perspective on my situation and believe even a brief meeting could be beneficial. Would you have a few minutes available to talk, perhaps sometime next week?

Pitch

Include your “pitch” when you’re reaching out by email to someone you don’t know, to make yourself interesting/worth responding to

Subject: Referred by Helen Smith, re: HR people analytics

Dear Susan,

Helen (copied on this email) suggested that I reach out to you because she knows of both my HR leadership background and your cutting-edge work in people analytics. I also read your fascinating profile in CLO; congratulations on all you’ve achieved at YourCo.

As an HR Director most recently at MyCo, I’m beginning a search for new opportunities in the Tech sector. Given all of you’ve accomplished in this sector, I would greatly appreciate 20 minutes your time to gain your perspective on my search (I will not be expecting any job openings). If interested, I would be happy to share insights gained from my industry-recognized work on performance management, or introduce you to people in my extensive network.

Pitch

Some background: with 15 years of HR leadership experience, I’ve led initiatives focused on retention, performance management and talent acquisition. Highlights:

- Increased retention by 63% for top performers
- Transformed approach to performance management, improving employee engagement by 15%
- Created a national award-winning leadership development program
- Improved recruiting through new marketing channels and branding, e.g. increased web traffic by 40%

My LinkedIn Profile is www.linkedin.com/in/myname for your additional information.

I would be grateful for a few minutes of your time. Would you have 20 minutes available to talk?

Cold Contact when opening unknown (informational meeting – industry change)

Subject: Open to discussing Development/Fundraising at Ivy University?

Dear John,

Upon reading your bio on the Ivy website, I thought I would reach out to you, as I myself have experience that could support fundraising and development efforts.

I currently work in New York City (at _____ and teaching part-time at _____), and in the long run am looking to work in the Hudson Valley, preferably at Ivy or one of the other area Universities. I would greatly appreciate 20 minutes of your time to gain your insight on how my experience might be a fit in a University setting (I will not be expecting any openings). Given my many years of experience with Data Mining and DataMart design, perhaps I could also share with you some knowledge that you would find useful for Ivy's fundraising efforts.

Some background: I have nearly 14 years in Database Marketing analytics, that is, turning raw data into actionable knowledge for Marketing or Sales teams. I believe that a University would find this experience valuable in helping to optimize fundraising contacts, target enrollment prospects efficiently, and improve retention. Highlights include:

- Doubled Marketing's ROI to 23% by adopting a "test-learn-enhance" approach to campaigns, and by developing segmentation/modeling strategies.
- Increased retention by 57% for high potential customers, and increased new account acquisition revenue by 79%, by developing segment-based targeting strategies.
- Led creation of entire analytics infrastructure, including development of databases with millions of records.
- Modeled customer behavior, creating segments that led to campaigns which generated $ millions in revenue.

My LinkedIn profile is X.

I also notice from your bio that you made the transition from corporate to university that I'm looking to make. I would greatly value your insight regarding this transition I'm seeking. Would you be available for a brief meeting?

Cold-contact: Informational Meeting

Subject: Discuss developing physician-leaders at Ivy?

Dear Linda,

I appreciate Ivy's unique commitment to developing its physician's leadership skills. As a physician-executive, I bring many years of experience successfully managing and developing physician leaders. Perhaps a conversation could be mutually beneficial.

With senior leadership roles including VP for Medical Affairs and National Medical director, I know how to identify and develop potential leaders. I bring a track record of improving both leadership success and retention of talented physicians, at health centers such as BigDeal Medical Center and WellKnown Healthcare, community hospitals such as Everyone's Hospital Center and Happy Hospital, and national managed care organizations such as BestInsurance. Highlights:

- Created annual development plans that enabled 17 national health plan medical directors to achieve goals and assume additional leadership responsibilities.
- Trained physician-reviewers with no leadership experience to serve as Regional Medical Directors for populations of more than 100,000 members, and implemented initiatives that saved more than $70 million.
- Through mentoring, enabled physicians to chair a new 1000-physician independent provider association, leading Medicare to highlight it as one of the top accountable care organizations in the U.S.
- Developed vascular surgeons without prior administrative experience, resulting in their launching and leading a successful, minimally invasive procedure service-line at a large community hospital.
- Coached local health plan CMOs, enabling them to reduce Medical Director on-boarding time by about 50%.

My LinkedIn profile is X for your additional information.

Your Institute is, to me, a model for how to develop and retain talented physicians. Given my success with leadership development, your commitment to the same, and my interest in seeing how I can help Ivy achieve its leadership and retention goals, I believe even a brief meeting could be mutually beneficial.

Would you have 20 minutes available on your calendar to talk? I will contact your office in a few days to see if I can get on your calendar, assuming I don't hear from you first.
